What is the Survivor Portal?

This is a tool for those impacted by disaster to report their property damages and needs resulting from a fire, flood, tornado, etc. This information is shared with county and state agencies to aid in assessments and to understand the impacts of the disaster. This information may be used to direct resources and will help county and state agencies in learning what unmet needs there may be from the event. This could help determine what assistance programs may be available.

Is this an application for disaster assistance?

No. Sharing your information in the Survivor Portal is not a guarantee or application for assistance. However, it does give county and state agencies information to seek out assistance opportunities. If you opt to receive additional information, you may be contacted in the coming months about support that becomes available.

How long does it take?

The survey should take about 10 to 15 minutes to complete.

Who has access to my information?

This information is shared with county and state government agencies to aid in assessments and to understand the impacts of disasters. This information may be used to direct resources and will help the agencies understand what unmet needs there may be from the incident. This could help determine what assistance programs may be available. The information is protected and cannot be shared through Colorado Open Records Act requests.
